ACCORDING to John Fissell,

Shutoff Due Saturday in 1 City Area

Repair of a fire hydrant on E. Corwin St. will require a shutoff of water tomorrow morning for one section of the city.

According to Ervin Leist, public utilities manager, the shutoff will be confined to this area: both sides of Union St., east of Pickaway St. to Mingo St.; both sides of Pickaway St. on Union St. to Ohio St.; and both sides of Ohio St. from Pickaway St., eastward to the corporation limit.

The shutoff will start at 8 a. m. Leist said the repair should be completed in one to four hours, depending on complications that might arise.

City officials said the hydrant, located near the stockyards, apparently was struck by a vehicle. A leak resulted.

Schinagle's Parole OK'd

Panel Repeats Earlier Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission voted 3-2 today to parole Roy Roger Schinagle on or after Dec. 2.

Schinagle of Cleveland, has served 10 years and 18 days for second-degree murder in the fatal beating of his college sweetheart.

The vote was the same as an earlier one granting Schinagle parole from Ohio Penitentiary Gov. James A. Rhodes had asked the commission to temporarily suspend Schinagle's earlier parole after it was reported they might not have had full access to information about a violation of prison regulations.

Commission Chairman J. Arthur Shuman of Springfield said that all information relating to the case was available originally to the commission.

Schinagle, now 29, was to have left Ohio Penitentiary eight days ago, the day temporary suspension of his parole was directed.

Several charges and countercharges about safeguarding prison records in offices where inmates work were made as the result of publicity given the matter. At a meeting of prison and parole officials earlier this week, no one produced any specific evidence of tampering with prison files.

The slaying for which Schinagle was convicted was nicknamed the "Red Slippers Case." The victim was Cynthia Pfeil, 19, of White Plains, just north of New York City. She had been a student at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware the year before.

Schinagle was a sophomore. The case got its nickname because, when the girl's body was found, she had been beaten so severely identification was difficult. A pair of red slippers she wore were traced to Columbus and helped establish her identity. Medical examination determined she was pregnant.

Had today's vote gone the other way, Schinagle would have been considered again in three years.

Pair Claims Innocence In Spy Plot

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — An American engineer and a Russian chauffeur pleaded innocent today to charges of conspiring to spy for Russia.

The engineer, John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and the chauffeur, Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City, were arrested by the FBI Oct. 29 in the breakup of an alleged espionage plot.

Ivanov and Butenko were indicted by a federal grand jury on three counts of conspiring to transmit information to the Soviet Union relating to the U.S. national defense. Conviction could mean the death penalty.

Also arrested were two members of the Soviet U.N. delegation. They and a third member of the Russian U.N. mission who was named in the FBI complaint, all protected by diplomatic immunity, have since been expelled from the United States.

Butenko and Ivanov have been held without bail at Hudson County Jail, Jersey City.

Murder Charge Planned in Kenton
KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor William Conner said today a first-degree murder charge will be filed against Isan (Ike) Driskill in the shooting of Mrs. Coletta Arlene Smith.

The body of the 42-year-old wife of a railroad employee was found in her home at Dunkirk early Thursday. She had been killed by a shotgun blast in the face.

Driskill, 51-year-old farmer of Dola, was quoted by Sheriff James Baldridge as admitting the shooting but insisting it was an accident.

Capitol Hill Myth Refuted

Solons' Paris Trips Not 'Free'

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a persistent myth on Capitol Hill that a congressman can spend U.S.-owned francs galore in Paris and not cost the American taxpayer a cent. The facts dispute this. But the myth goes on.

When criticism stormed around Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, for taking House restaurant waiter Ernest Petinaud on a trip to Paris last week, the congressman replied:

"Ernest cost the taxpayers $88 in counterpart funds, which can't be used otherwise, so it actually cost nothing."

At one time, the myth was true.

During the days of the Marshall Plan, in the late 1940s and early 1950s, the United States sent great amounts of economic assistance to Europe. European countries paid for this by depositing their own currencies in U.S. government bank accounts. They were called counterpart funds.

These currencies, which were held in huge amounts, could not be transferred. They had to be used in the European country.

Today Europe no longer receives the huge amounts of economic assistance that it did during Marshall Plan days. Too, it receives little under the U.S. program of distributing surplus farm commodities and other system that brings foreign currencies to U.S. accounts.

U.S. officials say that the embassy in Paris takes in fewer counterpart funds each year than it needs for American operations in France. So, when a congressman travels to Paris and uses these funds, he is spending money that the embassy has to replace.

And the embassy replaces it by French francs with American taxpayer dollars.

Central Ohio Milk Price Hearing Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture will hold hearings in Columbus Nov. 20 on Central Ohio farmers' appeal for higher at-farm milk prices during the next six months. However, the USDA denied hearings for many other Ohio dairy marketing orders.

The farmers say that recent drought conditions forced them to use concentrates and forage feeds originally stored for winter and early-spring feeding. This, they contend, will force many dairymen to buy ration ingredients far ahead of next year's pasture season.

Milksheds in Dayton, Lima, Columbus and Indianapolis will be covered at the Central Ohio hearing. The USDA will provide a judge, an attorney and an economist to go over the situations prevailing and decide whether to change prices.

Among Ohio dairy marketing groups denied hearings were Cleveland, Toledo, Akron-Canton and Cincinnati.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base is losing one of its two Strategic Air Command jet bomber wings but is gaining three transport squadrons now assigned to the Allied Command at Evreux Air Base, France.

The change is part of a Defense Department plan announced in Washington Thursday in which the government hopes to save up to 40 per cent in the cost of European-based air transport squadrons.

The announcement said that some 1,740 personnel and 3,500 dependents will transfer from Evreux to Lockbourne. It did not list the number of personnel leaving the Ohio base but said the change is not expected to affect the base's strength significantly.

Lockbourne Changes Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base is losing one of its two Strategic Air Command jet bombers but is gaining three transport squadrons now assigned to the Allied Command at Evreux Air Base, France.

The change is part of a Defense Department plan announced in Washington Thursday in which the government hopes to save up to 40 per cent in the cost of European-based air transport squadrons.

The announcement said that some 1,740 personnel and 3,500 dependents will transfer from Evreux to Lockbourne. It did not list the number of personnel leaving the Ohio base but said the change is not expected to affect the base's strength significantly.

'No Good Reason' For Congress Lag

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy told a cheering AFL-CIO convention today there is no good reason why Congress should not promptly pass his $11 billion tax cut bill.

Kennedy said some four million persons are out of work and that those who talk about federal deficits "should look at that figure."

Kennedy criticized, without naming them, policies of Republicans including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

"They do not have a single constructive job-creating program of their own to offer," he said.

"Kennedy said the nation must have its strongest economic improvement in history because 'we must move so fast just to stand still.'"

"If we can obtain the prompt passage of the pending $11-billion tax reduction bill we will be sailing by next April on the winds of the longest and strongest peacetime expansion in our nation's economic history," Kennedy said in a prepared speech.

But he avoided the question of reducing the work week, the top priority item of business laid before the convention by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"We urgently need a tax cut now as insurance against recession," Kennedy said.

The tax bill, which the administration hoped to get passed early this year, is bogged down in Congress.

"We need that cut, as this bill provides, where it will do the most good—the percentage cuts in tax liabilities in the lower brackets are three times as large as those in the upper brackets," Kennedy said.

"And the greatest benefits of all will go to the unemployed for whom the tax cut will provide two million to three million new jobs."

Kennedy's remarks before more than 1,000 delegates representing 13.5 million union members followed administration policy of fending off demands for a shorter work week by emphasizing tax cut benefits.

The AFL-CIO also wants the tax cut, along with other federal measures designed to create jobs, but Meany said Thursday that unemployment threatens a national catastrophe and the

Military Orders In Ohio Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A report issued by Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research today listed Ohio as receiving 5.3 per cent of the federal government's military procurement prime contract expenditures in 1963—up from 4.5 per cent of the 1961 and 1962 totals.

Dr. James C. Yocum, director of the bureau, said the midwestern industrial states — Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana, have about held the level of 1961 with the notable exception of Ohio.

In all, he said, only seven of the 20 largest states increased their share of total contracts since 1961 and of these only Washington, Ohio and New Jersey had any substantial expansion in their shares of the total.

Ohio Farm Bureau Officers Are Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wendel Weller of Urbana has been re-elected to head the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's board of trustees. All officers of the board were re-elected for one year terms as the federation ended its 45th annual meeting Thursday.

Also renamed to their positions were Weller, president; Frank Sollars, Washington Court House, vice president; Douglas R. Stanfield, Westerville, executive vice president, and Lewis J. Hay, Lockbourne, treasurer.

Ohio Little Hoover Panel Files Its Final Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Little Hoover Commission urged stronger central control of administrative functions today in a final report on a survey of state government.

The report was the 32nd by a team of 88 business management experts borrowed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to look into all departments and agencies.

Commissioners recommended creation of three new departments for a business-like approach to present-day executive and administrative services.

They would be departments of executive affairs, fiscal affairs and administrative affairs. The study group said the new departments would streamline executive functions and take over some work of existing agencies and elective officials, which the commission had suggested previously.

Cost of the latest recommendations was not estimated. Earlier reports said about $5.6 million could be saved annually in other state operations by elimination of alleged waste and overlapping effort.

"The organization of the central services of the state has not kept pace with current requirements," commissioners said. "A greater degree of central control is needed."

"The major agencies serving the public have generally progressed further in carrying out their responsibilities than have the central groups. There is little central management control or standardization of approach to common problems."

"Major organizational problems of the present state management system involve duplication and overlap of services, lack of access to the governor for program direction, poor management communications and conflicting financial and accounting responsibilities."

Recognizing that the proposed centralized control would be "a radical change from current practices," the commission recommended this alignment:

Executive department—Budgets, administrative analysis, planning and legislative analysis.

Public works, personnel, purchasing, data processing and management services.

Fiscal department—Accounting and revenues.

State agencies would continue to report to the governor or his office, which the commission said recently should be enlarged.

Commissioners said the proposed reorganization would make a clear distinction between agencies serving Ohio citizens and those serving other agencies or representing essentially staff functions for the governor.

4 Youths Linked to Death Case

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Four youths who live in the suburban Holland area are being sought for questioning in the slaying of a teenage couple whose charred bodies were found in a lovers' lane area Sunday, the Lucas County Sheriff's Department says.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Witte said Thursday night that two of the youths are 17 years old, one is 18 and the other is 20. The four have been missing from their homes since Monday and are believed headed for California, where a brother of one of them lives, Witte said. No charges have been filed against the youths he added.

The bodies of Edward Lee Mitchell, 19, of near Liberty Center and Marv Caldwell, 17, of Toledo were found in Mitchell's burned out car in a remote area west of here.

News of World in Brief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Samuel Caldwell, 63, of Toledo was found dead in a vacant lot on the near westside Thursday night shortly after he had refused a ride home from a bar.

Police said that Caldwell had been beaten on the head and knifed in the neck. Robbery was considered a possible motive for the slaying.

Orber Stevenson, 32, of Toledo, told police he offered to drive Caldwell home but the latter declined. Stevenson said when he left he found Caldwell's body at the edge of the parking lot.

ATLANTA (AP)—There's one small hotel that won't be built if the Georgia Board of Education has anything to do with it.

Board members blinked when asked Thursday to approve a proposed $6.3-million vocational-technical school that would teach advanced methods of hotel management.

Plans for the building included 15 hotel rooms and a dining room.

The board told the Atlanta school board to come up with another plan—without the small hotel.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The painters went to work with gusto last summer in the U.S. attorney's office at the Court of General Sessions.

They even filled in all the little holes in the acoustical ceiling.

Thursday it was announced that bids will be let to install new acoustical material. The office is no longer soundproof.

ATLANTA (AP)—The eviction of an African visitor from an Atlanta restaurant has been protested to the U.S. State Department.

The visitor, Abu B. Magba Kamara of Freetown, Sierra Leone, was refused service with three companions earlier this week.

only solution is to cut the work week to 35 hours or less.

The convention Thursday gave short shrift to unemployment solutions proposed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said a national job placement center is the key missing element to provide work for a large portion of the nation's jobless workers.

Kennedy will find the AFL-CIO agrees with his proposed $11-billion tax cut and other federal measures to create jobs.

But AFL-CIO President George Meany's call for "a 35-hour work week or shorter now" is labor's major point of disagreement with the administration.

Meany said cutting the work week is the only solution for unemployment.

He criticized those who say automation can become either a curse or a blessing.

"There is no element of blessing in it," he said. "It is rapidly becoming a curse to our society."

Rockefeller's job placement proposal and his call for strict control on federal spending as a condition for a tax cut were greeted by silence.

The only applause of note for the governor came when he repeated his opposition to a federal "right-to-work law," an obvious crack at his prime potential opponent for the presidential nomination—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Sale of Wheat Stalls Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter dispute over proposed grain sales to the Soviet bloc is holding up Senate passage of President Kennedy's badly mauled foreign aid bill.

The row erupted suddenly Thursday night just when a final vote on the $3,702,365,000 authorization appeared near after 14 days of debate.

It broke out over an amendment by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., to prohibit the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing payments for private grain sales to Communist countries.

After turbulent exchanges, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana offered a motion to kill the amendment. He was defeated 46-49. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has worked with Mansfield for the bill's passage, failed to vote with him.

Opponents of the amendment argued it would kill projected plans for a $25 million surplus wheat sale to Russia and other deals under negotiation with Communist bloc countries.

Once the tabling motion was defeated, and with no end of the debate in sight the Senate recessed until noon today.

Quick OK

The convention Thursday gave short shrift to unemployment solutions proposed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said a national job placement center is the key missing element to provide work for a large portion of the nation's jobless workers.

Kennedy will find the AFL-CIO agrees with his proposed $11-billion tax cut and other federal measures to create jobs.

But AFL-CIO President George Meany's call for "a 35-hour work week or shorter now" is labor's major point of disagreement with the administration.

Meany said cutting the work week is the only solution for unemployment.

He criticized those who say automation can become either a curse or a blessing.

"There is no element of blessing in it," he said. "It is rapidly becoming a curse to our society."

Rockefeller's job placement proposal and his call for strict control on federal spending as a condition for a tax cut were greeted by silence.

The only applause of note for the governor came when he repeated his opposition to a federal "right-to-work law," an obvious crack at his prime potential opponent for the presidential nomination—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

3 Stolen Radios Are Recovered

The radios stolen Monday from the Gordon Auto Parts and Appliance Store on W. Main St., have been recovered in Columbus.

Columbus Police are holding a man from their city in connection with the theft. The radios, valued at $104, were returned here today by Sgt. Turney Ross.

The radios were taken from the store between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. Monday. Patrolmen Jack Mills and William Brungs handled the initial investigation.

Girl Who Lost Leg Showing Recovery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Christine Simko, whose right leg was amputated Monday to save her life from the spread of a malignant hip tumor, stood beside her bed at Metropolitan General Hospital for the first time Thursday.

The hospital reported the 14-year-old girl's general post-operative condition is good. David Miller, assistant administrator, said her attitude is "better than average. Her attitude is positive."

Sale of Wheat Stalls Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter dispute over proposed grain sales to the Soviet bloc is holding up Senate passage of President Kennedy's badly mauled foreign aid bill.

The row erupted suddenly Thursday night just when a final vote on the $3,702,365,000 authorization appeared near after 14 days of debate.

It broke out over an amendment by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., to prohibit the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing payments for private grain sales to Communist countries.

After turbulent exchanges, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana offered a motion to kill the amendment. He was defeated 46-40. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has worked with Mansfield for the bill's passage, failed to vote with him.

Opponents of the amendment argued it would kill projected plans for a $25 million surplus wheat sale to Russia and other deals under negotiation with Communist bloc countries.

Once the tabling motion was defeated, and with no end of the debate in sight the Senate recessed until noon today.

Charles Hook Dies at 83; Paced Armco

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Charles R. Hook, retired president and board chairman of Armco Steel Corp. and one-time head of the National Association of Manufacturers, is dead at 83.

Hook, whose 60-year career in steel witnessed Armco's growth from relative obscurity to a position of eminence among "little steel" producers, died in Baltimore, Md., late Thursday after a lingering illness of cancer.

A company plane was to return here today the body of a man beloved for philanthropies at home, and first national president of Junior Achievements, Inc.

Hook also had found time to serve on government commissions under Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Funeral plans were incomplete but associates said final rites probably would be held in the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, of which, for many years, Hook had been a member.

Hook was a pioneer believer that human relations are an essential ingredient to employ relations. A speech before the Ohio Bankers' Association in Cincinnati in 1930 urged industry to "win the confidence of employees by taking the mystery out of business" and was credited by associates as establishing Hook as a spokesman for Armco and the steel industry on labor matters.

Akron Cop Says Domer Admits Lie

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An Akron police captain has testified that Robert K. Domer, on trial for first-degree murder in Stark County Common Pleas Court, admitted that he had lied about being burned in an Akron rooming house fire.

Domer, former Canton mortgage investment broker, is accused of killing Howard F. Riddle, whose charred body was found in Domer's burning automobile April 23 along the Stark-Wayne County line west of Massillon.

The state contends that Riddle, 54-year-old Akron fruit pedler, was killed to fake Domer's accidental death so his family could collect an estimated $238,000 in insurance.

Police Capt. Carroll Cutright testified Thursday that Domer made the admission to him at the Akron police station on April 29, the day after Domer was arrested at his home here.

Domer, 44, had burns on his leg, arm and face when he was taken into custody and told authorities in a signed statement that he was burned about April 22 in an Akron rooming house fire and that his car had been stolen.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television networks would like it if more people would stay up later. The viewers would like it if the networks would televise more popular shows earlier in the evening.

This is a real impasse but neither can do much about it.

The networks, with a raft of 60- and 90-minute programs, count the hours between 7:30 and 11 p.m. as "prime time." But some of it is more prime than others. Television watching rises to a peak between 9 and 10 p.m., then drops off sharply. A lot of us go to bed.

The latest Nielsen list of the 10 most popular programs contains only one that is seen by most of the country after 10 p.m.

The rest are bunched between 8 and 10. Yearround Nielsen studies indicate that between 9 and 10, about 60 per cent of the nation's television homes have their sets on. This drops to about 50 per cent during the next hour.

Other Nielsen studies, incidentally, show that from November through April the average set is in use five hours and 41 minutes a day. From May through October, the total is four hours and 29 minutes.

That television Relay satellite permitting two-way communications between the United States and Europe is being slightly uncooperative, so NBC will broadcast "Museums Without Walls" twice Sunday.

The program, showing the great treasure of Paris' Louvre and Washington's National Gallery of Art, will be seen live at show, on tape, will pre-empt 12:30 p.m. (EST) A repeat "Meet the Press" at 6 p.m.

Canada Aide Says Nation Not Extreme

CLEVELAND (AP) — Canadians are concerned with their freedom and right to develop as a distinctive national entity but "are not obsessed with the idea of independence and nationalism," Lionel Chevrier, minister of justice and attorney general of Canada, said here today.

"Such extreme attitudes are self-defeating in a world which, in effect, is getting continually smaller," Chevrier said in an address prepared for a luncheon of the Great Lakes regional meeting of the American Bar Association.

"We are not interested in encouraging a type of Canadianism that stresses exclusiveness," he continued "Opposition or antagonism towards other groups or nations is a sterile occupation that leads only to conflicts. But we are concerned in developing a responsible and creative Canadianism that will permit us to strengthen our best distinctive characteristics."

Chevrier said Canadians believe they can achieve this purpose without weakening the spirit of friendship and good will that binds Canada and the United States.

U.S. Fashion Stylist Shuns Usual Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — American fashion's little French girl, Pauline Trigere, Wednesday introduced a spring collection as independent as Charles de Gaulle himself.

Not at all concerned that other American designers are nipping in waistlines a gain for spring, Miss Trigere created a soft silhouette that "allows a woman to have a martini or a dessert now and then."

Close to shoulders and bust, the fabric hovers but does not get too close to the middle. However, the crisp silks, chiffons and linens are slim at the hips.

While other American designers are plunging necklines to blushing depths, Miss Trigere has bared backs of dresses worn under short capes and sleeveless blouses jackets called cabouchons.

Even short party dresses were strapless and bareback but not immodest in front. Formal ball gowns covered neck to ankle, and, cut on the bias, looked a comfortable as old bathrobes.

Not all of Miss Trigere's costumes ignored the waistline, though. White kid belts girdled the young models' middles, setting off white knit dickeys and fake blouse cuffs.

Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?

Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear out over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheelbases. Best riding truck, by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payloads. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMPSIDE. Nobody else makes a pickup exactly like this one with a ramp at the side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. Body and frame-floor assembly are very rigid because they are welded together. Has larger 95-hp air-cooled engine this year. Independent coil spring suspension all around.

EL CAMINO. If you want a pickup as good looking as any car on the road, this is the one! It can work hard, and look like a million dollars doing it—the only pickup in the world with Body by Fisher! Jumping to Some Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: You can tell a husband is henpecked if, when he is taking his wife out, she's the one who steps first into the street to hail a passing cab.

For sheer boredom in this world there's no fate worse than being caught at a cocktail party between two professional economists arguing about what's wrong with the economy.

You can never really find out much about a person by asking his minister about him. If you want the real truth, talk to his favorite bartender.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Economic explosions as well as population explosions are complicating the task of fitting the United States into what many see as a new financial era.

At home the problem takes the form of rising charges on borrowing, the purchasing power of the dollar under foreign pressure, the guarding of the nation's remaining reserve of gold, raising the money to aid developing companies in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

On a world scale the exploding economies have aroused the spectre of finding enough international credit to grease the wheels of commerce.

The problem was kicked around this fall in Washington by world financial leaders at the annual meetings of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. Some wanted to try an international currency instead of relying solely on gold reserves, plus U.S. dollars and British pounds. Others thought the need for it was still well in the future.

The United Nations reports that world economic output has jumped by 25 per cent since 1938, with poorer countries growing faster than the industrialized ones—but their local economies still are out of kilter because of the population explosion which is greatest in the underdeveloped lands.

Since 1938 short-term interest rates in the United States have been affected by financial conditions abroad. Foreigners have built up a huge amount of short-term dollar claims. Part of this has been turned in for U.S. gold to the embarrassment of the Treasury.

It could have been worse, except for the sturdy growth of the American economy itself, says Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust, New York. He also credits the realization abroad that the buildup of foreign-held dollars—result of the U.S. international payments deficit—wasn't caused by a weak economy at home but by defense and economic aid expenditures abroad and by large private investments overseas.

But the worldwide economic growth, which the United Nations survey calls the greatest in history, is changing the picture. And the U.S. dollar, strong as it is, may not be in enough supply to act forever as a world currency.

JOHN STRALEY offers this explanation of the origin of kissing: "The cave man found that salt helped him survive the fierce summer heat; also that he could get the salt by licking a companion's cheek. Then he discovered that the process became more interesting if the companion belonged to the opposite sex. Next thing you know, everybody forgot all about the salt."

A TV comedy writer at Danny's Hideaway proudly announced, "I wrote a lot of Jimmy Durante's best material this year, and now they're trying to sign me to do a new version of 'Cyrano de Bergerac.' 'Go along with you,' ordered Danny. 'You're nothing but a nose-dropper.'"

Val Carmichael writes that his motoring problems have been miraculously reduced since he found a way to stop his wife from being a back seat driver. He stuffed her into the trunk.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

When infants and children catch colds and sore throats during nasty wintry weather, they sometimes develop croup. Croup is a term which is used almost synonymously with laryngitis. It is characterized by a tiny, barking cough, followed by a long, noisy effort to breathe.

There are a number of different kinds of croup.

Diphtheria was associated with a particularly severe type of croup. Fortunately, immunization against diphtheria has effectively reduced to a minimum the disease and its complications.

Another kind of croup occurs in infants and children who are apparently in good health. Suddenly, without warning, a child will develop an episode of hoarseness, with a barking cough and difficulty in breathing.

This unexplained croupiness sometimes occurs for a few successive nights and then disappears as suddenly as it began. Even if fever is not present, the likelihood is that this croup is due to a mild infection of the tonsils and adenoids that has spread to the larynx.

Still another kind of croup involves the larynx and its extension, the trachea and the bronchus. Here, too, a barking cough, marked hoarseness and difficulty in free breathing typeify the condition.

Fortunately, modern antibiotics have diminished that frequency of croup and the dangers that previously complicated it. Yet croup, with its characteristic cough, is a warning signal, and when it does occur, it must not be neglected. For it always indicates difficulty in breathing.

The cause and severity must be determined in all cases of croup by seeking the immediate attention of the physician.

In his absence, the best home treatment for croup is steam, steam and more steam.

Fill the bathroom with steam, hold the baby in your arms until a doctor arrives. Parents should take turns being in the steam room with the baby.

Another method of employing steam is to open an umbrella and convert it into a tent by covering it with a sheet. A steam vaporizer can fill the tent with sufficient concentration of steam. Care must be taken to avoid burning either the baby or yourself.

Some excellent cold steam machines are now available. They afford equally effective relief during the acute phases of croup.

Steam is the most soothing treatment for the characteristic swelling of the larynx. When the swelling subsides, the breathing becomes easier and the panicky child is quiet.

Mothers are being warned to take special care in using rectal thermometers in children and infants.

Thermometers used rectally should have a thickened bulbous tip. The thin, pointed mouth thermometer should never be used in the rectum.

Taking the rectal temperature of a struggling child can injure, even perforate, the rectum.

It has been suggested that underarm temperature is often sufficiently indicative to make a rectal reading unnecessary.

If rectal temperature is absolutely necessary, the child's cooperation is imperative for the advantages of the reading do not compensate for the possible danger of injury to the rectum.

Geography and History

Does anyone look at maps anymore? The young, who have been exposed to a vague mish-mash called "social studies" in school in place of old-fashioned geography and history, seem to have only the faintest idea of the salient physical features of the globe. They know a lot about "social forces" (and I do not deny this); they know that nationalism and racialism are stirring Africa; they can tell you about the "revolution of rising expectations"; they know that the industrial revolution is still being exported from the West to the East; they can repeat all the clichés about "reaction" and "progressivism."

But they don't know which way the rivers run in Siberia, or anything about great circle air routes, or why a certain strong point or strategic narrow is important.

I raise this question because there must be some connection between the disappearance of geography in the schools and our apparent willingness as a nation to put up with the most absurd gyrations in our foreign policy. In a hundred football stadiums in the land on any given Autumn Saturday our students know the importance of protecting the passer, or pulling out the guards to provide crushing blocks around the end. But that a nation can have physical flanks to protect is lost on people who think of Vietnam, for example, solely in terms of "democracy" or Cuba or British Guiana in relation to what, ideologically, a "social studies" teacher would advocate as "progress."

Talking recently with a college freshman, who was home on a week-end, I was impressed by his knowledge of the ins and outs of palace intrigue in South Vietnam. He knew just how many Buddhists had imolated themselves; he had read everything in the papers about Ambassador Lodge's conclusions about the repressiveness of Diem's brother. His run-down of the situation in Southeast Asia, however, was entirely in approved modern "social study" terms. There wasn't a glimmer of understanding of what Vietnam meant physically to the safety of the non-Communist world.

This failure of a college freshman to think in elementary geographical terms would never have come about if, in grammar school or high school, he had had the old-fashioned drill in "bounding" countries. Knowing nothing about the sort of map gazing in which our fathers indulged, the freshman could not visualize South Vietnam in relation to the rest of Southeast Asia, or to China, or to India.

He could not see that the section of neighboring Laos that is in control of the Communists permits Red guerillas to move from the Communist north into South Vietnam with relative impunity. He knew nothing about Mekong River and its importance to the old Indo-Chinese region, nothing about rich rice bowls, or the necessity of keeping the Red Chinese from controlling the straits at Singapore, or from cutting in between the Philippines and India on the road to Australia.

Now, this sort of elementary ignorance could have been prevented if the college freshman had had to learn about the Mekong River in a grammar school geography drill given over to the great rivers of the world. My own feeling that Russia must always be at a geographical disadvantage in war because her great rivers run north and south, emptying for the most part into the Arctic Ocean, has saved me from overestimating the Communist military threat to the West. I owe this to a grammar school drill that seemed onerous at the time. "Social studies" would have been a lot more pleasant than learning about the Lena, the Ob and the Volga, but would they have been more fundamental?

Bismarck used to say that the master of Bohemia (now part of Czechoslovakia) was the master of Europe. General Patton knew all about Bismarck, and in World War II

he raced across southern Germany with his tanks to get to Bohemia ahead of the Russians. But our foreign policy, grounded in a "social study" mentality, was not set in simple geographical terms; it had decided that Communism was bound to

Try and Stop Me

JOHN STRALEY offers this explanation of the origin of kissing: "The cave man found that salt helped him survive the fierce summer heat; also that he could get the salt by licking a companion's cheek. Then he discovered that the process became more interesting if the companion belonged to the opposite sex. Next thing you know, everybody forgot all about the salt."

A TV comedy writer at Danny's Hideaway proudly announced, "I wrote a lot of Jimmy Durante's best material this year, and now they're trying to sign me to do a new version of 'Cyrano de Bergerac.' 'Go along with you,' ordered Danny. 'You're nothing but a nose-dropper.'"

Val Carmichael writes that his motoring problems have been miraculously reduced since he found a way to stop his wife from being a back seat driver. He stuffed her into the trunk.

Jack Lemmon insists that his doctor told him on the day his last picture was completed, "Please skip your vacation this year and get a real rest."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

When infants and children catch colds and sore throats during nasty wintry weather, they sometimes develop croup. Croup is a term which is used almost synonymously with laryngitis. It is characterized by a tiny, barking cough, followed by a long, noisy effort to breathe.

There are a number of different kinds of croup. Diptheria was associated with a particularly severe type of croup. Fortunately, immunization against diptheria has effectively reduced to a minimum the disease and its complications.

Another kind of croup occurs in infants and children who are apparently in good health. Suddenly, without warning, a child will develop an episode of hoarseness, with a barking cough and difficulty in breathing.

This unexplained croupiness sometimes occurs for a few successive nights and then disappears as suddenly as it began. Even if fever is not present, the likelihood is that this croup is due to a mild infection of the tonsils and adenoids that has spread to the larynx.

Still another kind of croup involves the larynx and its extension, the trachea and the bronchus. Here, too, a barking cough, marked hoarseness and difficulty in free breathing typify the condition.

Fortunately, modern antibiotics have diminished that frequency of croup and the dangers that previously complicated it.

Yet croup, with its characteristic cough, is a warning signal, and when it does occur, it must not be neglected. For it always indicates difficulty in breathing.

The cause and severity must be determined in all cases of croup by seeking the immediate attention of the physician.

In his absence, the best home treatment for croup is steam, steam and more steam.

Fill the bathroom with steam, hold the baby in your arms until a doctor arrives. Parents should take turns being in the steam room with the baby.

Another method of employing steam is to open an umbrella and convert it into a tent by covering it with a sheet. A steam vaporizer can fill the tent with sufficient concentration of steam. Care must be taken to avoid burning either the baby or yourself.

Some excellent cold steam machines are now available. They afford equally effective

Does anyone look at maps anymore? The young, who have been exposed to a vague mish-mash called "social studies" in school in place of old-fashioned geography and history, seem to have only the faintest idea of the salient physical features of the globe. They know a lot about "social forces" (and I do not deny this); they know that nationalism and racialism are stirring Africa; they can tell you about the "revolution of rising expectations"; they know that the industrial revolution is still being exported from the West to the East; they can repeat all the clichés about "reaction" and "progressivism."

But they don't know which way the rivers run in Siberia, or anything about great circle air routes, or why a certain strong point or strategic narrow is important.

I raise this question because there must be some connection between the disappearance of geography in the schools and our apparent willingness as a nation to put up with the most absurd gyrations in our foreign policy. In a hundred football stadiums in the land on any given Autumn Saturday our students know the importance of protecting the passer, or pulling out the guards to provide crushing blocks around the end. But that a nation can have physical flanks to protect is lost on people who think of Vietnam, for example, solely in terms of "democracy" or Cuba or British Guiana in relation to what, idealistically, a "social studies" teacher would advocate as "progress."

Talking recently with a college freshman, who was home on a week-end, I was impressed by his knowledge of the ins and outs of palace intrigue in South Vietnam. He knew just how many Buddhists had imolated themselves; he had read everything in the papers about Ambassador Lodge's conclusions about the repressive nature of Diem's brother. His run-down of the situation in Southeast Asia, however, was entirely in approved modern "social study" terms. There was a glimmer of understanding of what Vietnam meant physically to the safety of the non-Communist world.

This failure of a college freshman to think in elementary geographical terms would never have come about if, in grammar school or high school, he had had the old-fashioned drill in "bounding" countries. Knowing nothing about the sort of map gazing in which our fathers indulged, the freshman could not visualize South Vietnam in relation to the rest of Southeast Asia, or to China, or to India.

He raced across southern Germany with his tanks to get to Bohemia ahead of the Russians. But our foreign policy, grounded in a "social study" mentality, was not set in simple geographical terms; it had decided that Communism was bound to dominate eastern Europe anyway. So Patton was called back from his forward position.

The moral: go back to geography and history in the schools. We won't have a sensible grasp of the world until we do.

Miss Horrar Becomes Bride Of Mr. Thomas Rodenfels

Miss Norma Kay Horrar, daughter of Mrs. Howard Eisenbrey of Martinsville, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Wayne Rodenfels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Rodenfels of Washington C. H., 11 a. m. Saturday in St. Colman Catholic Church, Washington C. H.

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gold pedestal vases of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums flanked by seven-branch candelabra entwined with greenery and white satin bows.

Mrs. J. Rankin Paul presented a program of nuptial music.

Escorted by her stepfather the bride wore a floor length gown of white bridal satin designed with a bodice of Chantilly lace enhanced with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt flowed into a chapel train. A queen's coronet adorned with pearls held her bouffant fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses and leather leaf.

Miss Linda Martin, Louisville, Ky., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jamie Hardin, Wapakoneta and Miss Patti Hicks, Wilmington. The maid of honor wore a dress of moss green silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and soft pleated bouffant skirt. Her small veil was caught to velvet leaves and moss green accessories completed her ensemble. The bridesmaids' dresses, identical to the honor attendant's, were in gold with matching accessories. They carried crescent bouquets of bronze and yellow pompons with green and gold velvet ribbon.

Miss Janet Haws, Louisville, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length white brocade dress and carried a white and gold basket edged with bronze and gold pompons and filled with chrysanthemum petals.

Mr. Robert Rodenfels served his brother as best man. Ushers were Cadet William Gavin, cousin of the bridegroom, Wilmington, Mr. Monte Tewksbury and Mr. Duane Callender of Columbus and Mr. Thomas Trimmer of Indianapolis, former residents of Washington C. H.

Master Johnny Lewis, nephew of the bride, of Louisville, Ky., was the ring bearer. He wore a black velvet Eton suit.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a green brocade sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of green and brown cypripediums.

Mrs. Rodenfels, mother of the bridegroom, wore a candlelight matelasse brocade sheath dress fashioned with a crystal beaded bodice and accessories of a bittersweet color with an orchid tinted to match her costume.

A reception was held in St. Colman Hall immediately following the ceremony. A tiered cake encircled with bronze and yellow pompons and leather leaf centered the bride's table highlighted with a white floral arrangement and white candles. Hostesses were Mrs. William Pringle and Mrs. Littleton Lewis, of Louisville, Mrs. James Swisshelm and Mrs. Joseph Fournier, Wilmington, Mrs. Gene Mustain, Washington C. H. and Mrs. Paul Hardin of Wapakoneta. Mrs. Daniel Schmitz, sister of the bride, served the cake.

For a wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride wore a beige tweed costume with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The new Mrs. Rodenfels is a 1963 graduate of Wilmington High School.

Mr. Rodenfels is a 1960 graduate of Washington High School and attended Wilmington College. He is associated with the advertising department of The Circleville Herald.

The couple will reside at 137 Watt St.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Forget Her, Man!

DEAR ABBY: Am I being childish? I am very much in love with a woman who was married before and has two small children. Her husband died suddenly at an early age with a heart attack. I love this woman but I cannot see my way clear to marry her because I can't put out of my mind the fact that she was once in another man's arms and has borne his children. If this woman had never been married I would get down on my hands and knees and beg her to be my wife. She claims she loves me very much and I believe her. What can I do?

CAN'T FORGET
DEAR ABBY: Don't take up any more of her time. You may, in a fit of generosity, decide to ask her anyway, and the

Solons Study Education Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 16-member legislative study committee must decide between now and January on the scope of its proposals for public education in Ohio.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, Senate majority leader and head of the committee, said Thursday they must decide on whether to include such problems as school dropouts and standards for teachers, or whether to concentrate solely on state financial aid.

The study committee is to submit its proposals to the General Assembly when it convenes for its regular session in January.

Everett Crawford, chief of general research for the Legislative Service Commission, told committee members they should study developments at the 1,900-pupil Addison Junior High School in downtown Cleveland.

Additional staff services have been added there, and there have been considerable improvements in discipline and effectiveness of instruction, Crawford said. Grants from the Ford Foundation helped pay for the improvements.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

poor woman has had enough bad luck for one lifetime.

DEAR ABBY: Where can I get a good night's sleep? I have a husband who snores so loud he jars the whole house. We have a spare room, and if I slip out and go into it to get one hour's sleep before it's time for him to get up, and he happens to wake up and finds out I'm not sleeping with him, he raises the roof. Listen, Abby, I am 63 and so is he so there is no sense in this, and you can believe me. Thank you.

GOING NUTS

DEAR ABBY: What good is a roof on your house, if you wind up in a mental institution? Kiss him goodnight and then go into the spare room and get some sleep.

DEAR ABBY: A life long friend of mine became engaged and she was going to invite me to her wedding. I was so sure she would that I sent her an expensive wedding gift, not to mention the outfit I had made especially for the occasion. I was heartbroken when the wedding day arrived and I had not been invited. When she returned from her honeymoon, she telephoned and asked why I didn't attend. I told her I never got an invitation. She said, "Oh you silly little fool, I am sure I sent you one, but we are such close friends, even if you didn't get it you should have come anyway." Tell me, Abby, can friends be so close that they attend affairs like this without a formal invitation?

CUT TO THE QUICK

DEAR ABBY: Yes. But had one really felt "close" to her, you could have called a few days before the wedding and asked what happened to your invitation.

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gold pedestal vases of white gladioli and pom-poms of chrysanthemums flanked by seven-branch candelabra entwined with greenery and white satin bows.

Mrs. J. Rankin Paul presented a program of nuptial music. Escorted by her stepfather the bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle with a bodice of Chantilly lace enhanced with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt flowed into a chapel train. A queen's coronet adorned with pearls held her bouffant fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses and leather leaf.

Miss Linda Martin, Louisville, Ky., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jamie Hardin, Wapakoneta and Miss Patti Hicks, Wilmington. The maid of honor wore a dress of moss green silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and soft pleated bouffant skirt. Her small veil was caught to velvet leaves and moss green accessories completed her ensemble. The bridesmaids' dresses, identical to the honor attendant's, were in gold with matching accessories. They carried crescent bouquets of bronze and yellow pompons with green and gold velvet ribbon.

Miss Janet Haws, Louisville, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length white brocade dress and carried a white and gold basket edged with bronze and gold pompons and filled with chrysanthemum petals.

Mr. Robert Rodenfels served his brother as best man. Ushers were Cadet William Gavin, cousin of the bridegroom, Wilmington, Mr. Monte Tewksbury and Mr. Duane Callender of Columbus and Mr. Thomas Trimmer of Indianapolis, former residents of Washington, D. C.

Master Johnny Lewis, nephew of the bride, of Louisville, Ky., was the ring bearer. He wore a black velvet Eton suit.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a green brocade sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of green and brown cypripediums.

Mrs. Rodenfels, mother of the bridegroom, wore a candlelight matelasse brocade sheath dress fashioned with a crystal beaded bodice and accessories of a bitersweet color with an orchid tinted to match her costume.

A reception was held in St. Colman Hall immediately following the ceremony. A tiered cake encircled with bronze and yellow pompons and leather leaf centered the bride's table highlighted with a white floral arrangement and white candles. Hostesses were Mrs. William Pringle and Mrs. Littleton Lewis, of Louisville, Mrs. James Swishelm and Mrs. Joseph Fournier, Wilmington, Mrs. Gene Mustain, Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Paul Hardin of Wapakoneta. Mrs. Daniel Schmitz, sister of the bride, served the cake.

For a wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride wore a beige tweed costume with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The new Mrs. Rodenfels is a 1963 graduate of Wilmington High School.

Mr. Rodenfels is a 1960 graduate of Washington High School and attended Wilmington College. He is associated with the advertising department of The Circleville Herald.

The couple will reside at 137 Watt St.

Dear Abby: Forget Her, Man!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Am I being childish? I am very much in love with a woman who was married before and has two small children. Her husband died suddenly at an early age with a heart attack. I love this woman but I cannot see my way clear to marry her because I can't put out of my mind the fact that she was once in another man's arms and has borne his children. If this woman had never been married I would get down on my hands and knees and beg her to be my wife. She claims she loves me very much and I believe her. What can I do?

CAN'T FORGET
DEAR CAN'T: Don't take up any more of her time. You may, in a fit of generosity, decide to ask her anyway, and the

Solons Study Education Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 16-member legislative study committee must decide between now and January on the scope of its proposals for public education in Ohio.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, Senate majority leader and head of the committee, said Thursday they must decide on whether to include such problems as school dropouts and standards for teachers, or whether to concentrate solely on state financial aid.

The study committee is to submit its proposals to the General Assembly when it convenes for its regular session in January.

Everett Crawford, chief of general research for the Legislative Service Commission, told committee members they should study developments at the 1,900-pupil Addison Junior High School in downtown Cleveland.

Additional staff services have been added there, and there have been considerable improvements in discipline and effectiveness of instruction, Crawford said. Grants from the Ford Foundation helped pay for the improvements.

Wife Preservers

When washing a car outdoors, choose a shady spot and use only cool or lukewarm water. This is because the finish should be lathered up only when the metal is cool.

If you are baking rice and the water evaporates before the grains are swollen and tender, just add a little more liquid. Be sure to use a tightly covered casserole.

poor woman has had enough bad luck for one lifetime.

DEAR ABBY: Where can I get a good night's sleep? I have a husband who snores so loud he jars the whole house. We have a spare room, and if I slip out and go into it to get one hour's sleep before it's time for him to get up, and he happens to wake up and finds out I'm not sleeping with him, he raises the roof. Listen, Abby, I am 63 and so is he so there is no sense in this, and you can believe me. Thank you.

GOING NUTS
DEAR GOING: What good is a roof on your house, if you wind up in a mental institution? Kiss him goodnight and then go into the spare room and get some sleep.

DEAR ABBY: A life long friend of mine became engaged and she was going to invite me to her wedding. I was so sure she would that I sent her an expensive wedding gift, not to mention the outfit I had made especially for the occasion. I was heartbroken when the wedding day arrived and I had not been invited. When she returned from her honeymoon, she telephoned and asked why I didn't attend. I told her I never got an invitation. She said, "Oh you silly little fool, I am sure I sent you one, but we are such close friends, even if you didn't get it you should have come anyway." Tell me, Abby, can friends be so close that they attend affairs like this without a formal invitation?

CUT TO THE QUICK
DEAR CUT: Yes. But had one really felt "close" to her, you could have called a few days before the wedding and asked what happened to your invitation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO 'CURIOUSLY CURIOUS': A man is judged by the company he keeps. A woman is usually misjudged.

German Public Supports Church-Operated Schools

BONN, Germany (AP)—Half
of West Germany's children are separated in grade school by religion, although parochial schools like those in the United States hardly exist.

There are publicly supported grade schools for Catholic children and publicly supported grade schools for Protestant children. Catholic classes are taught by lay Catholic teachers
and Protestant classes by lay
Protestant teachers.

Different textbooks are used
to reflect the different beliefs.

The other half of the nation's more than five million children
attend grade schools together,
without regard to their religion.
Each of the 10 states determines its own type of school system. Some provide only separate schools, some only mixed

schools, and some a combination of the two systems.

Private grade schools are allowed under special circumstances and are very rare.

The situation is different with high schools. Of these 12 percent are private and mostly denomination, but 70 to 80 percent of their expenses are met by public funds. The rest are state run and completely secular, as are all universities.

Grade schools divided by religion date to the Kaisers. Adolf Hitler ended them, but they were reintroduced after World War II by the Christian Democratic party under Chancellor
Konrad Adenauer. This party receives heavy support from West Germany's Catholics. The
Catholic Church favors the separate schools.

One-third of the expenses of all grade schools are paid by local communities, which own
the buildings. The other two-thirds of the money comes from the states, which appoint the principals and teachers and supervise administration.

Children in all the states start
the school day with a prayer
hymn, or Bible reading. All grade schools offer two to four hours a week of religious instruction, either Protestant or Catholic or both. Attendance is voluntary, and about 6 per cent
of the children stay away.

Although West Germany is divided about equally between Catholics and Protestants, Catholic grade schools far outnumber the Protestant grade schools. There are 1,925,145
Catholic children in such schools and 820,074 Protestant children.

"RAISING" CHILDREN BY THE BOOK

We have a choice in America... a choice denied millions who live under godless communism.

Here is a man who is exercising that choice!

He believes that children growing up in the free world ought to know the Author of Liberty. He wants his son and daughter to cherish and embrace the spiritual insights God has given man.

This father introduced his children to the Bible when they were very young. Today the Book of the Ages is their friend. Tomorrow it will be their guide through the frightening age to which they have been born.

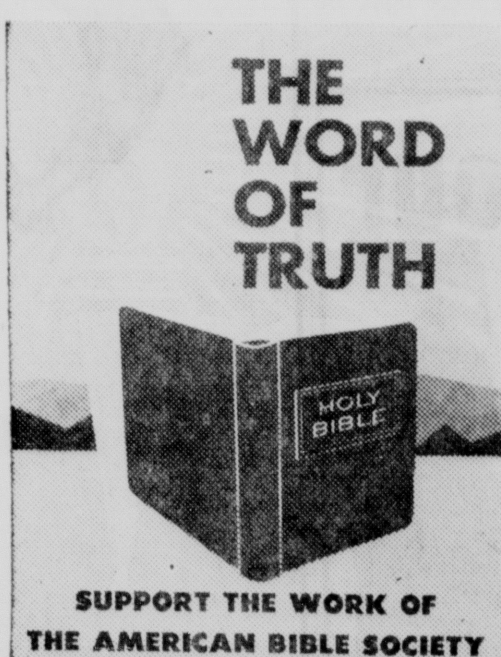

The American Bible Society — supported by earnest Christian citizens and the churches they attend — enables millions of families around the globe to share our heritage of Truth with this new generation on whose spiritual fibre rests the hope of the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

4 Witnesses Are Jailed For Silence

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Refusal to answer questions before the Mahoning County grand jury investigating crime and gambling conditions has resulted in the jailing on contempt of court charges of the first four witnesses called.

William Gaul, Benjamin
White and Steven Almsay, all of Struthers, were jailed
Wednesday, joining Michael Granchay, also of Struthers, who was ordered to jail Monday afternoon.

The four dodged all questions by pleading protection under the Fifth Amendment. They refused to testify even though promised immunity from prosecution.

All but Almsay appeared before a federal grand jury in Cleveland last summer. White was indicted for perjury for denying before that jury that he had ever engaged in gambling in Struthers, where he has an arrest record.

Common Pleas Court Judge
Sidney M. Rigelhaupt ruled that the questions asked the four witnesses here did not violate their constitutional rights and cited them for contempt when they ignored his order to answer the questions.

Sixty-six other persons have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, which is using evidence gathered by FBI agents in their probe of the bombing death of Charles (Cadillac Charlie) Cavaliero and his son, Tommy, 11, a year ago.

ter and was sentenced Thursday

formatory at Mansfield.

German Public Supports Church-Operated Schools

BONN, Germany (AP)—Half
of West Germany's children are separated in grade school by religion, although parochial schools like those in the United States hardly exist.

There are publicly supported
grade schools for Catholic children and publicly supported
grade schools for Protestant children. Catholic classes are taught by lay Catholic teachers,
and Protestant classes by lay
Protestant teachers.

Different textbooks are used
to reflect the different beliefs.
The other half of the nation's
more than five million children
attend grade schools together,
without regard to their religion.

Each of the 10 states determines its own type of school
system. Some provide only separate schools, some only mixed

schools, and some a combination of the two systems.

Private grade schools are allowed under special circumstances and are very rare.

The situation is different with high schools. Of these 12 percent are private and mostly denomination, but 70 to 80 percent of their expenses are met
by public funds. The rest are state run and completely secular, as are all universities.

Grade schools divided by religion date to the Kaisers. Adolf
Hitler ended them, but they were reintroduced after World War II by the Christian Democratic party under Chancellor
Konrad Adenauer. This party
receives heavy support from West Germany's Catholics. The
Catholic Church favors the separate schools.

One-third of the expenses of
all grade schools are paid by local communities, which own
the buildings. The other two-thirds of the money comes from
the states, which appoint the principals and teachers and supervise administration.

Children in all the states start
the school day with a prayer
hymn, or Bible reading. All grade schools offer two to four hours a week of religious instruction, either Protestant or Catholic or both. Attendance is voluntary, and about 6 per cent
of the children stay away.

Although West Germany is divided about equally between Catholics and Protestants, Catholic grade schools far outnumber the Protestant grade schools. There are 1,925,145
Catholic children in such schools and 820,074 Protestant

children.

"RAISING" CHILDREN BY THE BOOK

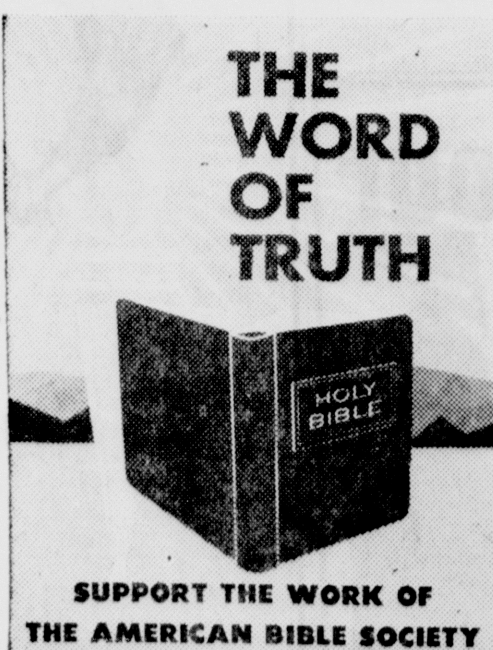

We have a choice in America... a choice denied millions who live under godless communism.

Here is a man who is exercising that choice!

He believes that children growing up in the free world ought to know the Author of Liberty. He wants his son and daughter to cherish and embrace the spiritual insights God has given man.

This father introduced his children to the Bible when they were very young. Today the Book of the Ages is their friend. Tomorrow it will be their guide through the frightening age to which they have been born.

The American Bible Society — supported by earnest Christian citizens and the churches they attend — enables millions of families around the globe to share our heritage of Truth with this new generation on whose spiritual fibre rests the hope of the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Power of a Dedicated Life

THE VERDICT OF THE APOSTLE PAUL CONCERNING
THE GLORY AND PRIVILEGES OF THE
CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

Scripture—Acts 16:10-40; II Corinthians 1—4.

By N. SPEER JONES
WITH THIS lesson we begin a study of Paul's second letter
to the Christians in the great Greek metropolis of Corinth. It was written shortly after the first, possibly in 57 or 58 A.D.
The relating passage from Acts records the beginning of the great apostle's ministry in Europe. His first sermon there did not even take place in a synagogue, but before a few women gathered together at a place of prayer by the riverside.

Here, once again, we see evidence of the Christian teaching that power is not always found in the supposedly powerful places; the power of Paul's dedicated life was such that Lydia and her whole household immediately became converts. So,
too, was the jailer influenced by
power from a least likely source,
a prison (Acts 16:29-34). Thus

GOLDEN TEXT
"Thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savor of His knowledge by us in every place."—II Corinthians 2:14.

Paul, a dedicated Christian, was able to exercise his power for Christ even when imprisoned.

The fact that he was tortured and imprisoned in this passage, as in many other instances, illustrates that Paul was able to glory in his ministry in the face of great hardship, not because he received acclaim. This, too, is evidence of the dedicated Christian spirit.

This involvement of suffering is reiterated in the concluding, as well as in the beginning portion of today's lesson (II Corinthians 4:7-15). The power to withstand suffering comes from God. It is because we preach
Christ, and not ourselves, says Paul (II Corinthians 4:5,6), that we have the power which transcends the weakness and temporal quality of our bodies.

This idea (verse seven) is couched in terms of "treasure in earthen vessels," a reference, no doubt, to the ancient practice of storing gold, silver and other precious items in earthenware jars. Paul probably refers here not only to his body but to
all his human feelings.

Chapter 3, verses 1-6, brings out the fact that a minister's true accrediting exists in the hearts of his congregation. The sixth verse mentions the difference in the new covenant, since
Christ is of the spirit, not the
"letter," as in the Mosaic covenant. This spiritual quality of the Christian ministry is further emphasized in verses 7-18.

Honesty is the virtue acclaimed in the first four verses of the fourth chapter. The "god
of this world" or "age" is Satan.
In the first two chapters of this letter, Paul is defending his ministry in Corinth against charges of insincerity.

Chapter 2, verses 5-11, deals with someone in the Corinthian church who has asked for forgiveness. The offender may have been the one referred to in the fifth chapter of Paul's first letter. Paul now pleads for this man's restoration to their love,
lest he be driven to despair and Satan's cause.

Dixiecrat-GOP Coalition Splits on Rights Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leading Southern senator's recent blast at House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck isn't likely to have a lasting effect on the unofficial House coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats.

When Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., assailed Halleck for publicly supporting the Kennedy administration's modified civil rights bill, it came as no great surprise.

While Halleck himself couldn't comment, close associates said he discounted it as a political speech designed to strengthen Russell's position in Georgia. The speech was made in Dublin, Ga.

Russell for years has headed the anticivil rights forces in the Senate, while Halleck has played a leading procivil rights role in the House.

The Indianan has teamed in the House with Howard W.
Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee, many times to block or slow economic legislation proposed by Democratic administrations.

But Smith's Southern contin-gent never has received and never has expected the support of Halleck's forces when civil rights legislation was involved.

In the 1957 House civil rights fight, which the Southerners lost, 168 Republicans joined with 118 Democrats on the winning side. Only 19 Republicans lined up with the opposition.

Three years later, when another civil rights bill was passed, 132 Republicans supported the legislation and only 15 opposed it.

The Power of a Dedicated Life

THE VERDICT OF THE APOSTLE PAUL CONCERNING
THE GLORY AND PRIVILEGES OF THE
CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

Scripture—Acts 16:10-40; II Corinthians 1-4.

By N. SPEER JONES
WITH THIS lesson we begin
a study of Paul's second letter
to the Christians in the great Greek metropolis of Corinth. It was written shortly after the first, possibly in 57 or 58 A.D.

The relating passage from Acts records the beginning of the great apostle's ministry in Europe. His first sermon there
did not even take place in a synagogue, but before a few
women gathered together at a place of prayer by the riverside.

Here, once again, we see evidence of the Christian teaching
that power is not always found
in the supposedly powerful
places; the power of Paul's dedicated life was such that Lydia
and her whole household immediately became converts. So,
too, was the jailer influenced by
power from a least likely source,
a prison (Acts 16:29-34). Thus

ware jars. Paul probably refers here not only to his body but to
all his human feelings.

The "things seen" refer to his present suffering and persecution; the "things unseen," to future glory and immortality.

Other characteristics of the Christian ministry or dedicated life are outlined in II Corinthians 2:14-4:4. Verses 14-17 are an interruption of his narrative to the Corinthians; they are abrupt and unpremeditated, a cry of joy in the midst of his worries over his ministry in Corinth (1:12-2:13 and 3:1-6).

The word "savor" (or "aroma" or "fragrance") harks back to the Old Testament concept of a burnt offering being a "sweet savor" to the Lord. What the apostle is saying is that ministry of Christ brings the consequence of death to the unbelieving and life to the believing.

Chapter 3, verses 1-6, brings
out the fact that a minister's true accrediting exists in the hearts of his congregation. The sixth verse mentions the difference in the new covenant, since
Christ is of the spirit, not the
"letter," as in the Mosaic covenant. This spiritual quality of the Christian ministry is further emphasized in verses 7-18.

Honesty is the virtue acclaimed in the first four verses
of the fourth chapter. The "god
of this world" or "age" is Satan.
In the first two chapters of this letter, Paul is defending his ministry in Corinth against charges of insincerity.

Chapter 2, verses 5-11, deals
with someone in the Corinthian
church who has asked for forgiveness. The offender may have been the one referred to in the fifth chapter of Paul's first let-
ter. Paul now pleads for this man's restoration to their love,
lest he be driven to despair and Satan's cause.

Today is Friday, Nov. 15, the 319th day of 1963. There are 46 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1777, the Continental Congress passed the Articles of Confederation. They became effective March 1, 1781, and were the supreme law of the land until superseded by the Constitution.

On this date:

In 1805, the Lewis and Clark expedition reached the Pacific Ocean at the mouth of the Columbia River.

In 1906 President Theodore Roosevelt visited Panama City—the first chief executive to leave U.S. jurisdiction while in office.

In 1945, President Truman announced that the secret of the atomic bomb would be shared with the other United Nations as soon as safeguards could be devised against its use for destructive purposes.

Ten years ago—CIO President Walter Reuther charged that the Republicans had turned the federal government into "a subordinate ally of big business."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a certain gentle and gentlemanly attitude in and about Congress which may do much to explain why it has done so little in 1963.

And President Kennedy has been one of the gentlest.

For several days after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., attacked this year's do-nothing performance of Democrats and Republicans, and particularly blamed Senate leaders, senators have been getting up to defend themselves.

One of them, the mild-mannered Sen. George D. Aiken, gave a novel explanation for the congressional lassitude while frankly admitting it existed. The Vermont Republican said:

"The record of this Congress up to now appears to be unenviable...Our accomplishments have hardly been discernible to the public. We have, however, done little damage, unless to ourselves..."

"The general public seems quite content to have us stay here the year around, so long as we do not upset the economic applecart with a lot of new laws."

Instantly he got warm approval from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif. He told Aiken: "Well and truly said, Uncle George."

Meanwhile, Dodd had become overwhelmed with a sense of guilt for daring to criticize this family-like establishment, that he confessed to his colleagues: "I feel like a skunk at a lawn party."

Kennedy, who got along fine with everyone when he was in the Senate, was asked at his news conference Thursday if he felt disturbed that Congress was unlikely to act on his tax and civil rights programs this year.

He had urged their passage and until recently the administration had seemed optimistic they would be acted on before January. No now Kennedy didn't challenge the questioner's assumption of no action in 1963.

Instead, he responded: "I think that the longer the delay, I think, yes, I think it is unfortunate. The fact of the matter is that both these bills should be passed. The tax bill has been before Congress nearly a year."

The longer it is delayed, he indicated, the more the economy will suffer. But when he was asked another question—what's wrong in Congress?—he didn't answer directly but said things should be brighter by next summer.

Thus while legislation stagnates, the President and the Senate avoid any harshness—except for Dodd, who later repented—and Congress isn't under any more pressure now to get on with its work than before Dodd spoke up.

The conclusion could be drawn from Aiken's remarks that, unless the public is on Congress' back to earn its pay by getting down to work, it doesn't feel any particular compulsion to do so.

This is an extraordinary commentary on Congress which is supposed to exercise judgment on what the country does and doesn't need.

One way the public could be aroused to pressure Congress would be for Kennedy to appeal directly to the public to support his programs by putting the crats have such majorities, can heat on Congress.

He has done very little of this since entering the White House. He seems to prefer, like former President Eisenhower, never to say anything which might offend the 535 members of Congress. This raises a natural question. His own Democrats, far outnumbering the Republicans, run both houses of Congress. If he can't get Congress to act on his programs when his Democrats have so much power, how

The answer seems to be: Wait for an election year, like 1964, when members of Congress, anxious to be sent back here, must have some kind of accomplishment to point to when they go home to appeal to the voters.

Fieldgoals Seen Winning For Packers

AP Guesspert
Also Sees Good
Day for Browns

NEW YORK (AP) — To George Halas this is a year to show that the parade has not passed him by, a year to prove that the Chicago Bears still can win with him as head coach.

To Vince Lombardi this is a year to make history by winning the National Football League playoff for a third straight time, a year to drive home the fact that the Green Bay Packers can win without any one man, even a star like Paul Hornung.

Fate and the NFL schedule throw the Bears and Packers together Sunday with the Western Conference lead, and probably the championship, hanging in the balance.

Last week's score was 8-3, bringing the season totals to 45-17-1 in the NFL and 17-15-2 in the AFL or 62-32-3 in both. Here goes again: (All games Sunday with Houston and Oakland having open dates in the AFL.)

NFL

Green Bay 9, Chicago 3—Jerry Kramer with three field goals to one by Roger LeClerc. Bears pass defense too tough and Halas' men have yielded only three TDs on the ground in nine games. Packers rolled 49-0 and 38-7 against Bears last year but had to settle for field goal in a 10-3 loss on opening day. Bears could win it all if Bill Wade gambles and hits with bombs, but attack has been sluggish.

Cleveland 24, St. Louis 21 — Was all set to pick Cards until learned of injury to Don Brumm on top of loss of Ed Henke. Give Frank Ryan time to get set and he can work on defense with Jimmy Brown rolling over the ground. If Ryan falters, look for Blanton Collier to go for Jim Ninowski. Browns' pass defense leaky so Charlie Johnson and his catchers can go for broke. Could go either way.

New York 31, San Francisco 14—Y.A. Tittle against the 49ers who traded him away. 49ers have speed but Giants have know how. San Francisco last both offense and pass defense.

Pittsburgh 24, Washington 17 — Steelers still in race. Can't afford letdown after Browns' game. Skins' defense still full of holes but most teams can pass against Steelers. Pitt won first game 38-27.

Baltimore 23, Minnesota 21—Johnny Unitas showed he still can hit with 17 of 24 last week against Lions. Vikings have given up 32 touchdowns so Colts should get their quota. They did a job on Fran Tarkenton last year, 34-17 and 42-17.

Detroit 21, Los Angeles 7—Earl Morrall on beam and Rams can be had running or passing. Lions won earlier 23-2.

Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21—Eagles still battered and Cowboys are without Jim Kay Smith and Joe Bob Isbell as well as Roy Jordan. Both teams have trouble stopping anybody but give Dan Meredith an edge over King Hill although Hill pitched Eagles to 24-21 edge at Philadelphia.

AFL

San Diego 28, Buffalo 20—A big one for Bills who can tie for Eastern lead with idle Houston if they win. But Chargers have the man in Tobin Rote to rip Buffalo's pass defense if they stop Paul Lowe and Keith Lincoln. Teams rate 1-2 on offense.

Boston 20, Kansas City 7 — Chiefs have trouble getting on scoreboard and Pats lead league in defense. A win keeps Boston in thick of race while Chiefs are in Western cellar and due for big shakeup.

Denver 28, New York 24—Anybody who can figure this one belongs in the swami business. Denver is home and Jets have reverted to form. First game was 35-35 tie.

West Virginia's worst defeat on the gridiron was a 130-0 loss to Michigan in 1904.

4 LE Gridders On All-SVC Unit

Logan Elm High School, finishing second in the Scioto Valley Conference football race, placed four players on the All-Conference team.

They are Jim Hicks, who made both the offensive and defensive units; Arnie Gabriel, selected to both units and defensive specialists Bob Stant and Mike Clifton.

The winner of the loop, Picketon, dominated selections with nine players making the dream team. Unioto followed with three, Paint Valley had one and Laurelville one.

The Coach of the Year award went to Ron Jones, Picketon mentor who guided his gridders to a conference championship, dethroning defending champs Logan Elm. Jones, in his second year at Picketon, is an Otterbein College graduate.

THE BACK of the year was Harry Rittenour, a senior halfback from Picketon. He scored 110 points during the season and gained 988 yards in 152 carries for his team.

Rittenour is a straight A student.

The top lineman honors went to Ron Ash, a senior from Laurelville, who was a unanimous choice at offensive tackle and at linebacker.

Picketon's Earl Willson, a freshman, was the youngest member of the honor team.

For Logan Elm, Bob Stant was a unanimous choice at defensive end, Mike Clifton defensive safety and Arnie Gabriel, linebacker, received votes from all the league coaches.

Logan Elm players making the honorable mention list were Larry Radabaugh, senior, linebacker; Jeff Lutz; junior, safety and quarterback; Dannie Shaw, senior guard.

The offensive team has 12 members. Gabriel and Larry Davis of Unioto tied in the balloting for fullback.

Here is the all-conference team.

LOGAN ELM — Jim Hicks, defensive and offensive tackle; Arnie Gabriel fullback and linebacker; Bob Stant, defensive end; Mike Clifton, safety. Honorable mention — Jeff Lutz, Larry Radabaugh, Stant.

UNIOTO — Larry Davis, fullback; Lionel Wisecup, end; Jim King, senior, middle guard.

PAINT VALLEY — Ellsworth Trent, senior, guard and linebacker. Honorable mention — Bob Jones.

LAURELVILLE — Ron Ash, tackle and linebacker. Honorable mention, Rick Tisdale, junior, linebacker.

Honorable mention — Gary Adams, Dave Sprouse, Mike Juenger, King.

TEAM HONORED — Members of this year's BPO Elks youth baseball squad were honored by the lodge with a dinner and the showing of movies on the Cleveland Browns pro football team.

Front row, left to right, are: Bryce Brown, Charles Walisa, Ricky Prushing, Jimmy Stevenson and Michael Smith. Second row — Manager Glenn Stevenson, Brant Liston, Ty Ankrom, Bruce Liston and assistant managers Forrest Brown and Roy Walisa. Other members of the team not present for the picture are D. J. Humphrey, Mike Moorehead, David Bowers, Jack Boyer and Stephen Swank. Leo Morgan, BPO Elks exalted ruler, presented each player with a medal. Several fathers were present for the fete.

West, Baylor Sparkle as Lakers Win

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jerry West and Elgin Baylor demonstrated Thursday night why they are regarded as indispensable by the Los Angeles Lakers...and won't be traded to the Baltimore Bullets.

West scored 10 of his 31 points in the final quarter, eight in the last 15 minutes after Baltimore pulled to within 106-105, as the Lakers won 123-115 to snap a two-game losing streak.

Baylor, limping because of two injured knees, still managed to score 20 points while playing just over half the game. It was the first meeting of the season between the two National Basketball Association clubs, who have been involved in trade rumors during the past two weeks.

The victory left Los Angeles atop the Western Division of the NBA, a half-game ahead of the St. Louis Hawks, who scored 9 straight points in the second half Thursday night and whipped the San Francisco Warriors 117-105.

One report early this week had Baylor being traded to the Bullets for Walt Bellamy, a 6-foot-11 center. Another rumor said West, Jim Krebs and Frank Selvy would be swapped for Bellamy.

Los Angeles owner Bob Short labeled the rumors ridiculous, adding that "everybody knows that Baylor and West are not for sale or trade regardless of the offer."

Navy and Notre Dame first met on the gridiron in 1927.

Harold A. Myer, assistant commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, notified Father Robert Clouston, principal of St. Joseph, of the decision that Dawson-Bryant must forfeit its games this year.

Ninowski Preps As Browns Passer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Ninowski was at quarterback with the first team most of the time Thursday as the Cleveland Browns emphasized defensive tactics in practice aimed at stopping St. Louis here Sunday.

Ninowski was intent on timing his handoffs to Jim Brown and Ernie Green. The wet football made throwing difficult for both Ninowski and Frank Ryan.

In the Cardinals, Cleveland meets a team that blitzes frequently. Apparently it has paid off since they are still contenders for the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Recognized for their contribution to this year's successful grid season were cheerleaders Doris Vanhoose, Susan Reichelderfer, Jane Kutler, Marguerite Johnson, Pat Young, Melanie Brehmer, Christine Zehner, Susan Thompson, Jane Mader, Lin Cook and Kay McDonald. They were introduced by Mrs. Carolyn Perone, adviser.

COACH Bill Mosure introduced his freshman team and Jim Shaw recognized his junior high squad.

Half-Million Hunters Take to Ohio Fields

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's upland game season started at 9 a.m. today, and an estimated half-million hunters began tramping the state's fields and woods.

Prospects for bagging pheasants, rabbits and quail are brighter now that rains have come, Wildlife Division field men say.

The season extends through Dec. 14 on private lands and through Jan. 31 on public lands.

Harness Race Program Shows Slight Deficit

John Fissell, secretary of the Pickaway County Fair Harness Racing program, reported yesterday the race program operated with a deficit of $279 this year.

However a net income of $375 realized at the annual Spring Matinee gave the program an overall profit, Fissell said.

A large number of entries during the Pickaway County Fair this summer forced the division of several races, adding to the overall purse total. The addition of quarter horse racing also increased purses, Fissell explained.

Total purses this year were $3,850. Other expenses were $335, including $250 for the starting gate, $50 to the presiding judge, $20 to the announcer, $10 for track maintenance and $5 for advertising.

INCOME included $2,500 from the state for purses, $500 from the state for track maintenance, $730 in entry fees and $176 in paid admissions. Total income was $3,906.

In 1962 the harness racing program at the fair showed a profit of $279.

Wally Post Signs Pact with Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I think I've got some baseball left," outfielder Wally Post said after signing a 1964 contract with the Cleveland Indians.

Post, 34, signed Thursday as a free agent. He was released a month ago by the Minnesota Twins. He opened the 1963 season with the Cincinnati Reds and was obtained by the Twins May 16.

For the Twins Post batted only 47 times and got nine hits for a .191 average.

Post, who lives in St. Henry, Ohio, broke into professional baseball in 1946 and has a lifetime batting average of .267. His best year was 1955 when he batted .309 and slammed 40 home runs.

LE Athletic Assn. Slates Chicken Fete

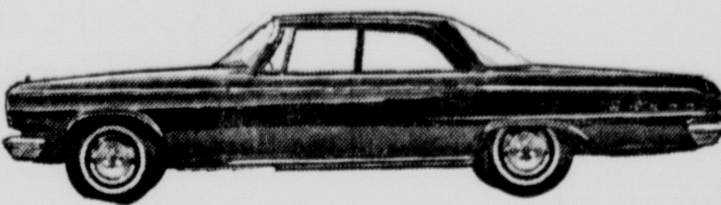

The Logan Elm Athletic Assn will sponsor a chicken barbecue at the high school cafeteria Nov. 22, from 5 to 7 p. m.

Tickets are available at the high school, Pickaway, Washington or Saltcreek schools and from many of the high school students.

Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to retire certificates which were sold to pay for lighting of the football field.

In 1962 the Pittsburgh Pirates won the National League flag by a margin of 27½ games.

Fieldgoals Seen Winning For Packers

AP Guesspert
Also Sees Good
Day for Browns

NEW YORK (AP) — To George Halas this is a year to show that the parade has not passed him by, a year to prove that the Chicago Bears still can win with him as head coach.

To Vince Lombardi this is a year to make history by winning the National Football League playoff for a third straight time, a year to drive home the fact that the Green Bay Packers can win without any one man, even a star like Paul Hornung.

Fate and the NFL schedule throw the Bears and Packers together Sunday with the Western Conference lead, and probably the championship, hanging in the balance.

Last week's score was 8-3, bringing the season totals to 45-17-1 in the NFL and 17-15-2 in the AFL or 62-32-3 in both. Here goes again: (All games Sunday with Houston and Oakland having open dates in the AFL.)

NFL
Green Bay 9, Chicago 3—Jerry Kramer with three field goals to one by Roger LeClerc. Bears pass defense too tough and Halas' men have yielded only three TDs on the ground in nine games. Packers rolled 49-0 and 38-7 against Bears last year but had to settle for field goal in a 10-3 loss on opening day. Bears could win it all if Bill Wade gambles and hits with bombs, but attack has been sluggish.

Cleveland 24, St. Louis 21—Was all set to pick Cards until learned of injury to Don Brumm on top of loss of Ed Henke. Give Frank Ryan time to get set and he can work on defense with Jimmy Brown rolling over the ground. If Ryan falters, look for Blanton Collier to go for Jim Ninowski. Browns' pass defense leaky so Charlie Johnson and his catchers can go for broke. Could go either way.

New York 31, San Francisco 14—Y.A. Tittle against the 49ers who traded him away. 49ers have speed but Giants have know how. San Francisco last both offense and pass defense.

Pittsburgh 24, Washington 17—Steelers still in race. Can't afford letdown after Browns' game. Skins' defense still full of holes but most teams can pass against Steelers. Pitt won first game 38-27.

Baltimore 23, Minnesota 21—Johnny Unitas showed he still can hit with 17 of 24 last week against Lions. Vikings have given up 32 touchdowns so Colts should get their quota. They did a job on Fran Tarkenton last year. 34-17 and 42-17.

Detroit 21, Los Angeles 7—Earl Morrall on beam and Rams can be had running or passing. Lions won earlier 23-2.

Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21—Eagles still battered and Cowboys are without Jim Ray Smith and Joe Bob Isbell as well as Roy Jordan. Both teams have trouble stopping anybody but give Dan Meredith an edge over King Hill although Hill pitched Eagles to 24-21 edge at Philadelphia.

AFL
San Diego 28, Buffalo 20—A big one for Bills who can tie for Eastern lead with idle Houston if they win. But Chargers have the man in Tobin Rote to rip Buffalo's pass defense if they stop Paul Lowe and Keith Lincoln. Teams rate 1-2 on offense.

Boston 20, Kansas City 7—Chiefs have trouble getting on scoreboard and Pats lead league in defense. A win keeps Boston in thick of race while Chiefs are in Western cellar and due for big shakeup.

Denver 28, New York 24—Anybody who can figure this one belongs in the swami business. Denver is home and Jets have reverted to form. First game was 35-35 tie.

West Virginia's worst defeat on the gridiron was a 130-0 loss to Michigan in 1904.

4 LE Gridders On All-SVC Unit

Logan Elm High School, finishing second in the Scioto Valley Conference football race, placed four players on the All-Conference team.

They are Jim Hicks, who made both the offensive and defensive units; Arnie Gabriel, selected to both units and defensive specialists; Bob Stant and Mike Clifton.

The winner of the loop, Picketon, dominated selections with nine players making the dream team. Unioto followed with three. Paint Valley had one and Laurelville one.

The Coach of the Year award went to Ron Jones, Picketon mentor who guided his gridders to a conference championship, dethroning defending champs Logan Elm. Jones, in his second year at Picketon, is an Otterbein College graduate.

THE BACK of the year was Harry Rittenour, a senior halfback from Picketon. He scored 110 points during the season and gained 988 yards in 152 carries for his team.

Rittenour is a straight A student. The top lineman honors went to Ron Ash, a senior from Laurelville, who was a unanimous choice at offensive tackle and at linebacker.

Picketon's Earl Willson, a freshman, was the youngest member of the honor team.

For Logan Elm, Bob Stant was a unanimous choice at defensive end, Mike Clifton defensive safety and Arnie Gabriel, linebacker, received votes from all the league coaches.

Logan Elm players making the honorable mention list were Larry Radabaugh, senior, linebacker; Jeff Lutz, junior, safety and quarterback; Dannie Shaw, senior guard.

The offensive team has 12 members. Gabriel and Larry Davis of Unioto tied in the balloting for fullback.

Here is the all-conference team.

LOGAN ELM — Jim Hicks, defensive and offensive tackle; Arnie Gabriel fullback and linebacker; Bob Stant, defensive end; Mike Clifton, safety. Honorable mention — Jeff Lutz, Larry Radabaugh, Stant.

UNIOTO — Larry Davis, fullback; Lionel Wisecup, end; Jim King, senior, middle guard.

Honorable mention — Gary Adams, Dave Sprouse, Mike Jueniger, King.

PAINT VALLEY — Ellsworth Trent, senior, guard and linebacker. Honorable mention — Bob Jones.

LAURELVILLE — Ron Ash, tackle and linebacker. Honorable mention, Rick Tisdale, junior, linebacker.

Coalgrove Forfeits All Grid Games

IRONTON (AP) — Dawson-Bryant High School of Coalgrove must give up its claim to the Ohio Valley High School Football Conference title because it used an ineligible player, the state athletic association announced today. St. Joseph Central High School's Flyers, the runner-up, was declared the champion.

A controversy arose when it was claimed that Paul White, a Dawson-Bryant back, was over-age. An investigation followed, and the school had to forfeit all its games played this year in the conference, composed of teams in this area.

The Dawson-Bryant team was undefeated with a 16-14 win over St. Joseph, the latter's only loss.

Harold A. Myer, assistant commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association notified Father Robert Clouston, principal of St. Joseph, of the decision that Dawson-Bryant must forfeit its games this year.

Rohr, head basketball coach at Miami and Northwestern Universities before coming to Ohio U., delivered an interesting message to both fans and players. He named the many necessary fundamentals on the way to becoming a good athlete, a gentleman and a man.

He recited many of his own past experiences in the field of sports and coaching, then applied them to the present-day outlook on athletics and the allied process of becoming a man and attaining success in life.

Presenting the Booster Club welcome was Robert Chapman, president of the sports organization. Offering the Invocation and Benediction was Pastor Carl Zehner of Trinity Lutheran Church.

A special guest was Carl Radcliff, representing the Hall-Adkins Legion Post, donor of the outstanding lineman trophy.

The evening was concluded when members of the football team presented each coach with a gift on behalf of the squad. Handling this chore were John Pharr, Copland, Fyffe and Tootle.

Thornton Expects To Topple Peralta

NEW YORK (AP) — "He won't push me around like he did Willie. When I hit him he won't keep coming back in."

That's the way Wayne Thornton, the body-banging California light heavyweight contender, feels about his 10-round television fight with Argentine Gregorio Peralta at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Despite Thornton's confidence, Peralta, the heavyweight champion of his country, is a 2-1 favorite. The odds are based largely on the handsome South American's decisive victory over light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano in a nontitle 10-rounder at Miami Beach last Sept. 20.

JFK's Tax-Cut Plan Dangerous, Sen. Byrd Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd accuses President Kennedy of taking a "very dangerous gamble" with the nation's solvency by trying to cut taxes while there are prospects of increased spending.

Byrd, Virginia Democrat who heads the Senate Finance Committee, disputed in an interview Kennedy's news conference assertion Thursday that "the economy will suffer if the Senate does not act quickly on the House-passed $11 billion tax-cutting bill."

The President's intimation that this and other bills were being delayed in a slowdown to prevent action on civil rights also was denied by Byrd. The senator made it clear, however, he doesn't expect the measure to be ready for Senate action this year.

There is room for a tax cut, Byrd said, if substantial reductions are made in spending. Instead, he said, the Kennedy administration is planning an increase in expenditures in the coming fiscal year.

Here are views he expressed in an Associated Press interview:

Q. What do you think of President Kennedy's proposal to reduce taxes and at the same time to keep spending at present or even higher levels?

A. I regard it as a very dangerous gamble with our solvency. Never before in the history of our country has any President advocated a planned deficit in order to reduce taxes. I feel that it is very untimely because we've already got a deficit this year of $9 billion. A tax cut of $11 billion will be added to the public debt.

This is the most important financial bill that's ever come before the Finance Committee because of the new policy of borrowing money to lower taxes and increasing expenditures at the same time.

Q. Has it ever been tried before in this country?

A. It has never been tried before and no president has ever recommended it.

Q. The President said the economy will suffer if the tax bill isn't passed quickly.

A. When the President started this idea of a tax reduction on borrowed money, he predicted a recession if his bill wasn't enacted quickly. It hasn't occurred. Today we're enjoying unusual prosperity.

Q. The administration says its primary objective is to attack hard-core unemployment. Do you think the federal government has a responsibility there?

A. I think it has some responsibility but I think private enterprise also has a responsibility. We must remember when we speak of unemployment that we actually have the highest employment in the history of the country.

We have over 60 million people employed, and of those, and these unemployment figures are not always accurate. They don't know whether the people are employable and so forth. So I don't believe it will directly have much effect on the unemployed.

After all, I might point out that the tax reduction in the lower brackets is not going to be very much. Those earning up to $3,000 get a $49 reduction. That's about 15 cents a day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

UNDERGROUND BLAST: A small nuclear weapons test was conducted underground Thursday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

The shot was described by the commission as low yield—a force equivalent to that of 20,000 tons of conventional explosives or less.

This was the eighth announced underground American test since a limited nuclear test ban pact was signed Aug. 5 prohibiting nuclear tests in the atmosphere, in space and underwater.

DELAY: The Senate Armed Services Committee deferred Thursday a vote on the nomination of Paul H. Nitze to be secretary of the Navy and William F. Bundy to succeed him as assistant secretary of defense for security affairs.

The postponement was requested by Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who told chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., they want more time to check new reports concerning Nitze's nomination. Russell set no date for a vote.

OVERSEAS TEACHING: The National Education Association said Thursday the Defense Department has not responded adequately to a request that teachers in overseas schools for the children of American servicemen be given sufficient salaries and facilities.

As a result, the association, which represents 860,000 American educators, advised teachers to be wary of jobs in such schools. They suffer from a serious shortage of supplies, up-to-date textbooks and specialist teachers, the NEA said.

According to NEA figures, overseas teachers with two years' experience and a bachelor's degree received $4,435 last year, while those in large urban schools in the United States received an average of $4,941.

At the scene for 20 minutes, firemen said damage amounted to about $40.

U.S.-Soviet Relation in Deep Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.-Soviet relations are in a deep freeze and will stay there unless Russia frees Frederick C. Barghoorn, the Yale scholar arrested on espionage charges.

President Kennedy expressed the administration view at his news conference Thursday when he said the arrest of the professor, 52, has "badly damaged" the atmosphere between the two countries and declared:

"I want to get Professor Barghoorn out of prison."

In the view here, the Yale political scientist's arrest marks the low point so far in a gradual deterioration of U.S.-Soviet relations since the agreement reached in Moscow on the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

This once-heralded "Moscow spirit," officials said, is fading as swiftly as the "spirit of Camp David" in 1959—the brief period of relaxed tensions following Soviet Premier Khrushchev's meeting with President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Barghoorn case is one of several signs that Moscow is getting impatient because the test ban pact failed to bring the results for which the Russians evidently hoped.

Other major incidents were the Russian blocking of Allied convoys on the road to Berlin, Khrushchev's belligerent remarks and recent anti-American articles in Moscow's government-controlled press.

After the test ban pact Moscow was hoping for sweeping changes in U.S. foreign policy, including abandonment of plans to create a nuclear force for the Atlantic Alliance.

There was some hope expressed by officials that the Kremlin might, in the President's words, recognize the impact of Barghoorn's arrest and release him.

This speculation is based on the theory that the professor was picked up so the Soviet Union would have an American to trade for Igo A. Ivanov, Russian trading corporation employee arrested Oct. 29 in New Jersey and awaiting trial on espionage charges.

One official reaction was cancellation of a U.S. delegation's planned departure for Moscow to open negotiations Tuesday on extension of the American-Russian cultural exchange program—a program Barghoorn had helped along.

No wonder I'm thrilled with my new GAS Range

It's beautiful and completely automatic even to that amazing Burner-with-a-Brain

Yes, nothing can equal my new Gas Range for the way it looks and the way it cooks. I love the handsome, modern styling that fits into any decorative scheme I choose.

And the way it cooks! I can be busy in another part of the house or even shopping at the supermarket. The Gas Range takes over. Turns itself on to the temperature I want and cooks the roast to rare perfection. If I'm delayed getting home, the Keep-Warm Oven turns itself down and keeps the roast rare for hours.

The Burner-with-a-Brain watches food automatically. No worry about vegetables scorching or messy boilovers.

Smokeless broiling is my assurance of a clean, cool kitchen. And nothing equals Gas to give chops and steaks that wonderful flame-kissed flavor.

The Gas Rotisserie is great for big roasts, poultry and hams. Operates automatically, too.

All of these modern features, available only in Gas Ranges, add up to better meals and more time to enjoy the family. Why not see for yourself... at your Gas Appliance Dealer's soon. Why not stop in tomorrow?

The average for all taxpayers will be $110 a year.

I don't believe that's going to stimulate this enormous purchasing power which is anticipated by the administration to the extent that they think it is.

Q. The President seems to think that action on the tax measures has been stalled as part of a slowdown to prevent progress on civil rights legislation. Is this true?

A. I don't think it's true as far as the Senate Finance Committee is concerned. The bill came over to the Senate Finance Committee the first week in October. It had previously had consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee for eight months. Hearings have been held every day and I don't think there has been any connection whatever with respect to the civil rights.

Cancer Film Viewing Here Is Heavy

The American Cancer Society's Pickaway County Unit, highlighting a year of public education activity in a report released here today, noted that about 1,500 county residents viewed ACS life-saving films urging annual health checkups as the best insurance against cancer.

Darrell Hatfield, president of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, said approximately 150 local women viewed "Time and Two Women" featuring the importance of the "Pap" test for the early diagnosis of uterine cancer. When detected early this form of cancer is virtually 100 per cent curable.

Another 150 women, according to Hatfield, saw "Breast Self-Examination" which teaches women a technique for discovering abnormal growths as an aid for the early detection of breast cancer.

Some 1,267 teenagers, Hatfield said, saw the Society's filmstrip "To Smoke or Not to Smoke?" which was produced specifically for high school students to point up the relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

Hatfield said that public education film showings by the American Cancer Society was at a high peak throughout Ohio and the totals here are reflected in the following state-wide viewing audience figures: all ACS films, 371,474; "Time and Two Women, 35,551; "Breast Self-Examination," 37,233; "Life Story," 11,074; and "To Smoke or Not to Smoke," 75,196.
